Before You Cook

All cook times are approximate based on testing.

1. Start the Rice and Edamame

- Turn oven on to 425 degrees. Let preheat, at least 10 minutes. Thoroughly rinse any fresh produce and pat dry.
- Trim and thinly slice green onions on an angle, keeping white and green portions separate.
- In provided tray, combine edamame, white portions of green onions, rice, $\frac{3}{4}$ cup water, garlic pepper, and $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt. Cover with foil.
- Bake covered in hot oven until water is fully absorbed and edamame is heated through, 10-15 minutes.
- While rice and edamame bake, continue recipe.

2. Add the Salmon

- Pat salmon dry and season flesh side with $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt and a pinch of pepper.
- Place a medium non-stick pan over medium-high heat.
- Add 1 tsp. olive oil and salmon, skin side up, to hot pan. Sear until golden brown, 2-4 minutes on one side.
- Remove from burner.
- Carefully remove tray from oven. Push rice and edamame to one side and top with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water and a pinch of salt. Tray will be hot! Use a utensil.
- Transfer salmon to empty side of tray, seared side up. Top salmon evenly with $\frac{1}{4}$ the mayonnaise (reserve remaining for sauce) and almonds, pressing gently to adhere.

3. Bake the Meal

- Bake uncovered in hot oven until salmon is firm and reaches a minimum internal temperature of 145 degrees, 7-10 minutes.
- While salmon bakes, halve lime. Cut one half into wedges and juice the other half.
- In a mixing bowl, combine remaining mayonnaise, miso, and 1 tsp. lime juice.
- Carefully remove tray from oven.
- To serve, top salmon with miso-mayonnaise sauce, sesame seeds, and green portions of green onions. Squeeze lime wedges over to taste. Bon appétit!
