Notes

Nutrition information includes pecans.

*If you prefer to make this without the pecans, just leave them off - it's still plenty delicious without them.

Dairy-free option:

Use your favorite non-dairy yogurt, either plain or vanilla. Depending on how sweet your non-dairy yogurt is, you may want to adjust the sweetener.

Vegan option:

Follow the dairy-free option and choose pure maple syrup for the sweetener.

Make-ahead tips:

The salad tends to get a little watery if it sits for long, so I recommend keeping the dressing and the salad separate until right before serving. Also, if you cut your fruit far ahead of time, try tossing it with a little fresh lemon juice to help keep it from browning.
