

Thai Sweet Chili Salmon Bowls

Ingredients

- 2 (4-ounce) skin-on salmon fillets, no more than 1-inch thick
- 3 tablespoons Thai sweet chili sauce
- 3 teaspoons reduced-sodium soy sauce, divided
- 3 teaspoons neutral oil, such as avocado or canola, divided
- 1½ teaspoons finely grated fresh ginger, divided
- 1 teaspoon minced garlic, divided
- 2 tablespoons rice vinegar
- 2 tablespoons chopped scallion
- 1 teaspoon honey
- 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil
- 2 cups coleslaw mix
- 1 tablespoon sesame seeds
- 1 cup hot cooked brown rice
- Chopped fresh cilantro for garnish (optional)

Directions

1. Line a small rimmed baking sheet with foil and coat with cooking spray. Place 2 salmon fillets, skin-side down, on the prepared baking sheet.
2. Whisk 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1 teaspoon neutral oil, 1 teaspoon ginger and ½ teaspoon garlic together in a small bowl. Brush 2 tablespoons of the sauce over the salmon; marinate the salmon in the refrigerator for 30 minutes. Reserve the remaining sauce.
3. Preheat broiler with oven rack 6 inches from the heat source. Broil the salmon until it flakes easily with a fork and an instant-read thermometer inserted in the thickest portion registers 145°F, 7 to 9 minutes.
4. Meanwhile, whisk 2 tablespoons rice vinegar, 2 tablespoons scallion, 1 teaspoon honey, 1 teaspoon sesame oil and the remaining 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 2 teaspoons neutral oil, ½ teaspoon ginger and ½ teaspoon garlic in a medium bowl. Add 2 cups coleslaw mix and 1 tablespoon sesame seeds; toss to combine.
5. Divide 1 cup hot rice between 2 large bowls. Top each bowl with a salmon fillet and drizzle with the reserved sauce. Divide the slaw between the 2 bowls. Garnish with chopped cilantro, if desired.
