neck and giblets from a turkey
backbone from a spatchcocked turkey
1 head garlic, sliced in half lengthwise
2 large carrots, sliced in half lengthwise and cut into 3-inch pieces
4 ribs celery, cut into 3-inch pieces
1 sweet onion, quartered
2 tablespoons avocado oil
1 1/2-2 teaspoons kosher salt, divided
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
3-4 sprigs rosemary
3-4 sprigs thyme
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons whole peppercorns

Instructions

1 This recipe calls for the turkey backbone, which means you'll need to first spatchcock your turkey. (or have the butcher do it and reserve the backbone!)

Spatchcocking is the process of removing the turkey backbone and flattening the turkey for quicker, even cooking and crispier skin. I one million percent recommend doing this for a perfectly moist, flavorful turkey.

- 2 Preheat the oven to 450 degrees.
- 3 Grease or line a large rimmed baking sheet with a silicone baking mat. Arrange turkey backbone, neck giblets, garlic, onion, carrots and celery on the tray, drizzle with avocado oil and season with 1 teaspoon each salt and pepper. Toss until evenly coated.
- 4 Roast for 40-45 minutes until deeply golden brown and slightly caramelized. Add a splash of water to the pan to scrape up any flavorful bits stuck to the pan.
- 5 Transfer the turkey, veggies and any juices to a large stockpot. Fill the pot with 4 quarts (16 cups) of clean cool water. Add the bay leaves, peppercorns, another ½ teaspoon kosher salt, and rosemary and thyme sprigs (if you have the stems leftover from making the dry brine, add those!)
- 6 Bring to a simmer over medium heat. Continue to simmer until the liquid is reduced by a third, about 1½-2 hours. Taste and add another pinch of salt, if desired. Turn the heat off and let the stock cool before straining through a fine-mesh sieve into mason jars or vessel of choice. You should have about 3 quarts of stock.
- 7 Let cool completely, cover and keep in the fridge for up to 5 days or in the freezer up to 3 months. Use this stock to make the best turkey gravy ever. You can also use it in place of chicken broth for stuffing, soup, stew, risotto or cooked grains.
